

LOCAL SOCIAL EVENTS

Louise Homer Thursday
Madame Louise Homer, celebrated American contralto, who appears here in concert Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, will be greeted by a large audience as tickets are selling rapidly for the concert, which will be among the best ever heard in this city. It is seldom that an artist of the calibre of Madame Homer comes to a city the size of Fairmont and this fact will cause her to be greeted by a large audience. Members of the music department of the Woman's Club, under whose direction Madame Homer will appear here, will be hostesses on the occasion of the concert.

To Charleston
Mrs. W. D. Reed, president of the Home Missionary Society of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, went to Charleston today where she will attend the sessions of the State Woman's Missionary Society. She was accompanied there by Miss Kennison of the Engle Settlement House, who will also attend the sessions of the convention.

To Oklahoma
Mrs. Dora Jamison of Fairfax street is leaving tomorrow evening for Cordell, Okla., where she will spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Sturm. She will be accompanied to Chicago by Mr. Maud Jamison, who will spend some time there.

Epworth League Entertains.
A delightful Halloween party was held last evening in the social rooms of the Methodist Episcopal Church on Fairmont avenue, with the members of the Epworth League as hosts and hostesses. Seventy-five young people were entertained with games and stunts appropriate to the season. In one corner of the room, a witch with a broom and a cat, and the fortunes of the guests, while the mysterious woman, with an improvised hut, placed in another part of the room, cast a weird spell over the room. Bobbing apple games afforded amusement, and black cats and witches stalked at will among the guests. Many quaint and grotesque costumes were worn by the guests, and the rooms were elaborately and prettily decorated in autumn boughs, corn stalks and pumpkins. The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Miss Betty Keeshaw, chairman, and John Meredith, Virginia Elise, Robert Helmick, Bernice Arnett, George Cole and Dwight Lafferty.

Juvenile Party
Mrs. Leslie Michael entertained a number of children at a Halloween party of charming appointments at her home on Quincy street, honoring her son Raymond and her daughter, Miss Helen. Halloween decorations predominated throughout the house, with pumpkins and orange and yellow paper used with pretty effect. The children, twenty in number, were in masquerade costumes, and prizes were awarded those having the best costumes. The children were entertained with dancing and games appropriate to the season and were served with ginger bread, apples dipped in chocolate and other good things to eat. Several happy hours were spent by the group.

Society to Meet
The Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist Church will meet at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the church. An interesting program will be observed.

Christian Endeavorers Entertain
A delightful Halloween party was held last evening in the social rooms of the Lutheran Church on Gaston avenue, with the members of the Christian Endeavor Society in charge. Halloween effects were prettily used in the decorations, and the guests appeared in masquerade costumes. Prizes were awarded the winners of several contests, and refreshments appropriate to the season were served.

Give Party.
The Chopin Music Club, composed of twelve high school girls, entertained at a Halloween party at the home of Miss Evelyn Riggs of 1015 Lowell street Saturday evening. Corn shocks, pumpkins, lanterns and other Halloween decorations were used. Refreshments in keeping with the season were served the guests. A large birthday cake was presented to Miss Lenore Lough in honor of her birthday anniversary. Mrs. Carl Riggs and Mrs. Alex Ribbeldaffler chaperoned the affair. The guest list included Lenore Lough, Evelyn Riggs, Margaret Marshall, Irene Graffius, Virginia Shurtliff, Virginia Tedrick, Kathleen McCray, Lucile Ahern, Ruby Willetts of Oakland, Md., Mary Ellen Stagers, Mary Frances Ribbeldaffler, Mabel Stuart Stagers, John Romigh, Linn Hamilton, James Rawcett, Brady Knight, Richard Combs, Richard Shurtliff, George Riggs and Earl Jackson.

Party Given.
The junior branch of the Catholic Daughters of America gathered at the Parochial School last evening for a Halloween party. There about seventy-five in attendance, and the boys and girls indulged in Halloween games and were served during the evening. The chaperones were Mrs. Henry Mulligan, who is chairman of the junior branch, and the Mesdames B. H. McGinley, J. C. Burchinal and J. A. Anwyll.

Birthday Party
A party was held in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Nancy Carpenter of Bunker Ridge recently. The affair was arranged by her children and a number of friends. Dinner was served the guests. Mrs. Carpenter presided at the head of the table during the meal. The guest list included Julia Scott, D. G. Venable, Mary W.

For Wedding.
Frank Robinson of Winchester, Va., who is a brother of Delmar Robinson, arrived this morning for the Robinson-Hall wedding and is the guest of Clarence Robinson at his home in Fairmont avenue.

Rehearsal Today.
The rehearsal of the Robinson-Hall wedding will take place this evening at the Hall home in Pittsburgh avenue and will be followed by a dinner at the Country Club with Miss Hall as the hostess. The guests will number about twelve and will include the members of the bridal party, out-of-town guests here for the wedding and a few intimate friends of the bride.

Business Girls
Miss Mildred Jones, physical director of the Y. W. C. A., conducted a class in gymnasium last evening at the Y. W. Building when the business girls met. Those present in this class is about thirty-five and it meets each Monday and Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Halloween Party
The Halloween party staged by the American Legion at its headquarters in Cleveland avenue last evening was a success from start to finish, and there was not a dull moment during the evening for the large number of members of the post and post auxiliary and their friends who were present. Decorations in keeping with the season were used, appropriate games were played and refreshments suggested by the season served. The guests appeared in masquerade costumes, many of which were grotesque and elaborate. A number of funny stunts were arranged to entertain the guests and prizes were awarded the winners in a number of games of chance. The settings of the affair were among the prettiest ever seen in the city, and altogether it was among the most enjoyable affairs ever staged by the Legion and Auxiliary. Refreshments consisting of fingerbread, cider and apples were served. The party came to an end at about midnight. A nice sum of money was realized from the affair, which will be given to the Salvation Army.

Halloween Party
The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Haines at Edgemont was transformed into a woodland bower last evening when Mrs. Haines entertained the members of the Quota Club at one of the prettiest and most elaborate Halloween parties ever held in the city. A suitable canopy of autumn boughs and leaves was suspended from the ceiling of the sun parlor, while a thick carpet of leaves on the floor and trailing through the halls and down the stairway gave the real impression that one was walking through the leaf covered woods. Crepe paper curtains, in orange and black were hung from window of sun parlor and living rooms, with festooning of crepe paper suspended from electric domes to corners of the rooms, with pumpkins, Jack o' lanterns, and Japanese lanterns adding a soft glow to the surroundings. Crepe paper covers in the colors of the season were placed on living room and dining room tables, while bright colored apples were suspended from strings about the rooms. Ghosts, goblins and black cats wandered about the house and with lamps lowered the guests as about the fires and told thrilling ghost stories.

The guests, some twenty five, in number, appeared in masquerade costumes, many of the costumes being grotesque and elaborate. During the first part of the evening the guests remained masked, dancing was indulged in, following which a contest was staged in which the one guessing the identity of the most of the masqueraders was given a prize. This prize went to Miss Ethel Davis. Prizes were given in other events, and Miss Katherine Berry won the prize for pinning on the donkey's tail.

Later in the evening the guests were served with delicious refreshments, consisting of pumpkin pie, ginger bread, doughnuts, apples and cider. This party was the monthly evening meeting of the club and was among the most enjoyable yet held.

Plans are rapidly maturing for the charity ball to be given by the Quota Club on November 17 as a benefit for the Christmas party, children at Christmas time.

Shriners Entertain.

Good Diamonds
A GOOD INVESTMENT

It is a matter of pride with this reliable, well established jewelry house, that we have gained a well earned reputation for selling diamonds of quality and giving the greatest possible values in precious stones.

"Quality Comes First"
Thin stones known as "fish eyes" are always on the bargain counter and are a constant source of regret to the possessor. Other stores though bulky are deficient in refractive. Some are lopsided or mis-shaped.

Good diamonds steadily increased in value for the last forty years. Such diamonds are a real investment, not a luxury.
